

Cottage Program

Eligibility and Application Process

Catalyst's Cottage Program was created to provide transitional housing and supportive services for 12 to 18 months to survivors of intimate partner violence. The length of stay is based on your self-sufficiency plan and the time needed to complete it. Catalyst defines self-sufficiency as being able to pay for housing-related expenses necessary to remain in stable housing after transitioning out of the Cottage Program.

The location of Catalyst's housing facility must remain private as they are located on our confidential shelter property. For the safety of people who stay and work on-site, participants may not disclose the address or location to anyone. Visitors are not allowed at Catalyst's Cottages. Friends, family members, partners, and other service providers must be met at least six blocks away.

To be eligible for the Cottages, you must meet all of the following:

- Resident of Butte County
- Currently employed, currently enrolled in an educational/training program (school), or currently receiving disability income. If receiving disability income or other income:
 - Working with the Department of Rehabilitation and/or
 - Can show other activities or participation in other programs that will help maintain stable housing after the Cottage Program
- Identify goals that will lead to financial self-sufficiency within 12-18 months and that will contribute to physical and emotional well-being
- Pay monthly fees for the Cottage Program (40% of income total, 20% of income: fees that cover rent and utilities, 20% of income: savings that will be returned when leaving the Cottage Program less any major damages to the property)
